

IACTS-Cardiac CME & Mid Term GBM 2021

The Madras Medical Mission
"Compassionate Quality Healthcare"

Modern science has allowed us to do things that appear mundane for us, but if seen few decades ago, would have seemed extraordinary. Though we bring a vastly diverse set of ideas to the operation theatre today, we still stand where the surgeons before us gallantly stood. We humbly realize that the grandeur of operating as we do now is that, it persistently moves forward and that there is always more to learn.

Step into paving a way for the future by joining us at the IACTS cardiac CME 2021 airing virtually on 18th and 19th September 2021, from the Madras Medical Mission, Chennai.

We hope to endow a profound knowledge ranging from basics in atrioventricular valves to the nuances with the latest techniques compiled comprehensively with revolutionary talks by pioneers in our field. Star highlight of the CME will be Dr. Manuel Antunes's keynote address on 'Evidence based therapy in valvular heart disease.' Eminent surgeons have been invited to share their awe-inspiring experiences from basics to emerging technologies and sophisticated techniques that have been developed over decades of practice.

The Covid-19 global catastrophe has impacted all of us and we have adapted to a new normal. But our resilience as surgeons has created a path out of this uncertainty. We send our prayers to the martyrs lost to the pandemic.

As they say, the ills of today do not cloud the horizons of tomorrow, but act as a spur for a greater effort. We look forward to sharing an unparalleled fest of knowledge, accurate assessment and application of the learnt erudition leading to skill enhancement of the surgeons. We welcome you all to CT CME 2021, conducted by The Department of Cardiac Surgery, Madras Medical Mission
