WELCOME MESSAGE

It is my great pleasure to welcome all esteemed Faculty and Delegates to participate in Cardiomersion – the 16th Global Conference, being organized at The Orchid Hotel, Chandigarh, on 13th and 14th October 2025.

The theme for this year's conference is

“New Frontiers in Heart and Lung Transplantation: Innovation Meets Inclusion.”

This two-day event is being organized in collaboration with the Society for Heart Failure and Transplantation and is endorsed by IACTS.

The global burden of heart failure has been rising rapidly, with the majority of Indian patients suffering from ischemic heart failure due to delayed presentation after the onset of acute or chronic coronary artery disease. Heart failure patients in India are typically younger and experience higher mortality rates, largely due to a lack of awareness regarding guideline-directed medical therapy and delays in seeking appropriate surgical interventions. As a result, many patients progress early to end-stage heart failure, while transplant facilities remain limited due to logistical challenges and the inadequate availability of donor hearts.

The number of patients requiring lung transplants has also increased alarmingly since the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic, yet only a few centers across the country currently offer this facility.

There is an urgent need to motivate both the medical fraternity and society at large to develop a collaborative network that enables comprehensive management of such patients. This conference aims to promote the concept of “Transforming Lives Through Science, Strategy, and Sustainability” through global participation, encouraging all stakeholders to stay abreast of current guidelines and emerging prospects in the management of heart failure. Our shared goal is to prevent disease onset, slow progression, and improve outcomes through both non-invasive and surgical interventions in a cost-effective manner.

We are confident that all participants will enjoy an enriching academic experience while also taking the opportunity to explore Chandigarh — The City Beautiful — at the foothills of the Himalayas, and return with cherished memories.

Warm Regards
